

The background of the logo is a stylized representation of the CMS detector's cross-section. It features concentric semi-circular arcs in light blue, yellow, and green, representing different detector layers. Four thick, curved red lines originate from the bottom left and sweep upwards and to the right, representing the paths of muons. The entire design is set against a light orange background.

CMS

Compact Muon Solenoid